Presentation of telephone numbers

Your exchange name should always be shown to prevent difficulties for callers who cannot yet dial you direct.

It is helpful to show your STD Code as well on personal stationery, letter headings, in advertisements, etc for example :

Tunbridge Wells 33199 (STD Code 0892)

Although correct at the date this booklet went to print, charges shown are subject to revision and services may be modified, added to, or withdrawn. The information shown is not comprehensive ; further details are published in the Post Office Guide. More comprehensive and up-to-date information may be obtained from your Telephone Area Office or Telephone Exchange. (International Telephone Exchange for International calls.)

Only dialling codes authorised for use from the telephone you are using may be dialled. It is an offence dishonestly to use the Post Office system with intent to avoid due payment.

List of local and trunk dialling codes

To call an exchange in the following list first dial the code, if any, and then the number :
The letter shown beside each exchange indicates whether the call is charged at local (L) or trunk (a, b & c) rates.

All-figure numbers

eg 021-643 2107
061-834 9898

have been given to telephones in the cities named below. Please note that the all-figure number includes the figures preceding the hyphen ; there is no separate dialling code.

- a* London numbers begin 01-
- b* Birmingham numbers begin 021-
- b* Edinburgh numbers begin 031-
- b* Glasgow numbers begin 041-
- b* Liverpool numbers begin 051-

International dialling

Countries which can be dialled

You can dial calls to many places in the countries shown on the following pages.

What to dial

To call a telephone number in another country it is necessary to dial the International prefix (010 in the United Kingdom) for access to the international equipment, the country code for a connection to the distant country, and the required number within the country of destination.

When telephone numbers are shown in the following internationally agreed way, dial the prefix 010 in place of the + sign followed by the remainder of the International number.

National (020) 949999
International + 31 20 949999

To obtain a call when only the national number is known, eg 020-949999, (020) 949999 or (0)20 949999, first dial the code for the country you want.

For example :

The Netherlands.....010 31

Follow this with the national number which could be in any one of the forms shown above, but disregard the '0' at the beginning.

Thus, if the number was in the Netherlands, you would dial 010 31 20 949999.

If the number you have is in the form of place name and number, dial the code shown against the place name in the following list for the country concerned, and then the subscriber's number.

For example, for a call to Geneva, you dial 010 41 22 and then the subscriber's number.

In Canada and the USA some telephone numbers may consist of two letters and five figures. Before dialling, convert the letters to figures using the following table :

|-----------------|-----------------|
| A B or C dial 2 | M N or O dial 6 |
| D E or F dial 3 | P R or S dial 7 |
| G H or I dial 4 | T U or V dial 8 |
| J K or L dial 5 | W X or Y dial 9 |

Note : the letter 'O' corresponds with figure 6.

For example, for MO3 dial 663.

Country Leaflets

Dialling code leaflets are available for most countries which can be dialled. Each leaflet contains more comprehensive dialling code information for individual places within a particular country than is shown in this book. These can be obtained from your Telephone Area Office ; dial 100 and ask for Freefone 2013.

Tones you may hear

Ring tone in Europe is of medium pitch and bursts of tone are evenly spaced with quite long pauses between them, whilst in North America, it has bursts of low pitched tone. On calls to France you may hear a series of rapid pips to advise that your call is being connected.

Engaged tone in Europe is of medium pitch but repeated at shorter intervals than ringing tone. In North America it is a medium pitched tone with short pauses.

For a free demonstration of tones, dial 100 and ask for :

Freefone 2070 for those used in Europe,

Freefone 2071 for those used in North Amer

Tones in other countries vary considerably and are explained in the relevant country leaflets.

Dialling to the UK from abroad

You will need to ascertain when you are abroad whether you can dial international calls to the UK from the telephone you are using. If you can, dial the international exchange prefix used in that country, then dial the country code (44 for the UK) followed by the STD Code (omit the first figure '0') and the subscriber's number.

How to get the best from your telephone

Maintain an up-to-date list of dialling codes and/or numbers of people you are likely to call. This will save you time in the future. A free Personal Telephone Directory can be obtained from the number shown below.

It helps to write down the complete code and number before you start to dial.

When you dial, don't pause too long between digits.

After dialling there may be a pause before you hear a tone; hold on for up to 15 seconds on calls within the UK to allow the equipment time to connect your call. (Up to 30 seconds on International calls.)

Ask for the extension number on calls to a private exchange; this will save you time and money. If the extension you want is engaged, it will often pay to try again later.

Remember, it costs only a few pence to dial a call to find out if the person you want is there; this is cheaper than paying for a personal call via the operator. It also costs less to dial a call to the person you want asking him to call you back, rather than getting him to pay a transferred call charge.

If you require further free copies of this book, or have any enquiries about the information in it, please call your Telephone Area Office; dial 100 and ask for Freefone 2013.
